

Dear Sir/Madam,

After reading this paper I can see the difficulty that arises with applicants from overseas countries, especially those in war or unsettled countries where applicants may not have access to this type of supporting documentation. I think that option 4 therefore would be the best option for this situation with more applicants drawn for randomised audit from those countries that can not supply this evidence.

C Joustra