

Accreditation fees for Chinese medicine

Information for education providers

The Chinese Medicine Accreditation Committee (the Committee) sets the fees for accreditation assessments and the annual accreditation fee on a cost recovery basis. The fees are reviewed on a regular basis and may change from time to time.

Fees for accreditation assessments

The current fee for initial accreditation assessment of a Chinese medicine program in one division of Chinese medicine practitioner registration (acupuncture, Chinese herbal medicine or Chinese herbal dispensing) delivered at one site is $15,300. This amount applies until 31 December 2024. This fee includes one site visit (a site visit may be a physical visit or via videoconference). Different fees apply if:

- an education provider applies for assessment of a Chinese medicine program in more than one division of Chinese medicine practitioner registration, and/or
- an assessment team needs to undertake more than one site visit, for example if the same program is delivered at more than one site or if evidence is not available at the first site visit.

| Chinese medicine accreditation assessment fee until 31 December 2024                     | Fee (GST-free)   |
|--|------------------|
| Accreditation assessment of a program in one division at one site                        | $15,300         |
| Accreditation assessment of a program in two divisions at one site                       | $20,500         |
| Accreditation assessment of a program in three divisions at one site                     | $26,200         |
| Additional fee for accreditation assessment of a program delivered at more than one site | $7,000 per site |

Annual accreditation fee

The annual accreditation fee helps to support the work of the Committee to ensure it continues to be satisfied that each approved program and provider meet the accreditation standards. This work is required under the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law as in force in each state and territory (National Law). The fee does not include the cost of any site visits or a detailed accreditation assessment of an approved program. Additional fees will apply if the Committee decides that, based on its monitoring of a particular approved program and/or provider, a site visit or detailed accreditation assessment is required to ensure the Committee continues to be satisfied the program and provider meet the accreditation standards.

| Chinese medicine annual accreditation fee until 31 December 2024 | Fee (GST-free)       |
|--|----------------------|
| Annual fee for a program in one division at one site             | $5,150              |
| Annual fee for a program in two divisions at one site            | $7,650              |
| Annual fee for a program in three divisions at one site          | $10,300             |
| Additional fee for a program delivered at more than one site     | Available on request |