

I'm an international applicant wanting to apply for registration in Australia

Use this flowchart as a general guide of what you need to do when applying for registration.

Please read the information below carefully, as applying for registration has different steps depending on your circumstances, qualifications, and profession.

Check when your qualification/s will be assessed:

Before you apply for registration. or After you apply for registration.

To see which pathway applies to your profession/s, check the Qualifications assessment table

Know which form to use:

Nurses and midwives: Complete the online self-check to have your qualification/s assessed.

Paramedics: Download a PDF form to lodge your qualification portfolio, then apply online for registration.

All other professions: Download a PDF form to apply for registration.

Prepare your application:

Answer all questions on the application form.

Provide certified and, if not in English, translated copies of documents to support your application for registration.

See the Checklist for international applicants for what to include.

Apply for international criminal history check:

You must submit an international criminal history check to an Ahpra-approved supplier.

Apply at the same time as you submit your registration application so the results are valid when we assess your application.

and

Submit and pay for your application:

If applying online, click to submit application.

or

If using a PDF form, scan and upload the application form and supporting documents, using Ahpra's online upload portal.

The National Board and Ahpra assess your application.

Assessment outcome:

You are eligible and you meet all the registration standards:

Your qualifications are eligible, you've met the identity requirements, and you meet all the registration standards.

You are now approved for registration.

or

Assessment outcome:

You aren't eligible or don't meet all the registration standards:

The Board may propose to grant registration with conditions or refuse your application. You will have the opportunity to respond before a final decision is made.

Qualifications assessment pathways by profession

Profession	Pathway	Where to find more information
Chinese medicine	Qualification/s assessed as part of your registration application after you apply for registration. You'll need to complete a form available on the Chinese Medicine Board website.	Overseas qualified Chinese medicine practitioners page on the Chinese Medicine Board website
Chiropractic	Qualification/s assessed by the Council on Chiropractic Education Australia before you apply for registration	Overseas trained practitioners page on the Chiropractic Board website Council on Chiropractic Education Australia website
Dental	Qualification/s assessed by the Australian Dental Council before you apply for registration Specialist qualifications assessed as part of your registration application	Overseas qualified practitioners page on the Dental Board website Australian Dental Council website
Medicine	Medicine has four assessment pathways; all require qualification/s assessment before you apply for registration. Specialist qualifications assessed by an approved specialist medical college.	International medical graduates (IMGs) page on the Medical Board website. IMGs must also apply for primary source verification of qualifications.
Medical radiation practice	Qualification/s assessed as part of your registration application after you apply for registration. You'll need to complete a form available on the Medical Radiation Practice Board website	Overseas qualified practitioners page on the Medical Radiation Practice Board website
Nursing and midwifery	Qualification/s assessed by Ahpra before you apply for registration	Internationally qualified nurses and midwives page on the NMBA website You'll need to do the Self-check and have your qualification assessed
Occupational therapy	Qualification/s assessed by the Occupational Therapy Council before you apply for registration	'Overseas qualified practitioners' section of the Registration page on the Occupational Therapy Board website Occupational Therapy Council website
Optometry	Qualification/s assessed by the Optometry Council of Australia and New Zealand before you apply for registration	Overseas Practitioners page on the Optometry Board website Optometry Council of Australia and New Zealand website
Osteopathy	Qualification/s assessed by the Australian Osteopathic Accreditation Council before you apply for registration	Overseas Qualified Osteopaths page on the Osteopathy Board website Australian Osteopathic Accreditation Council website
Paramedicine	Qualification/s assessed by Ahpra before you apply for registration	Assessment of overseas qualifications on the Paramedicine Board website.
Pharmacy	Qualification/s assessed by the Australian Pharmacy Council before you apply for registration	Overseas Practitioner Registration page on the Pharmacy Board website Australian Pharmacy Council website
Physiotherapy	Qualification/s assessed by the Australian Physiotherapy Council before you apply for registration	Overseas Practitioner Registration page on the Physiotherapy Board website Australian Physiotherapy Council website
Podiatry	Qualification/s assessed as part of your registration application after you apply for registration. You'll need to complete a form available on the Podiatry Board website.	Overseas trained podiatrists and podiatric surgeons page on the Podiatry Board website
Psychology	Qualification/s assessed as part of your registration application after you apply for registration. You'll need to complete a form available on the Psychology Board website.	Overseas applicants page on the Psychology website

Checklist for international applicants

Documents correctly certified and in English

- Have you provided correct translations of any documents that are not in English (if applicable)?
- Are your documents correctly certified?

Proof of identity

- Have you provided certified identity documents that meet the proof of identity requirements?
- Have you provided evidence to support any previous names you have been known by (if applicable)?

Qualifications

- Have you provided a certified copy of your primary qualification that leads to registration in your profession?
Please see Qualifications assessment table for information on when and how to get your qualifications assessed.
- Have you provided a certified copy of your academic transcript (if applicable)?

Suitability for registration

- Have you provided evidence of meeting one of the English language skills competency pathways?
- Have you provided evidence to support any disclosed criminal history in Australia or overseas (if applicable)?
- Have you provided evidence to support any disclosures you have made about your suitability for registration?
- If you have declared an impairment that may affect your ability to practise, have you provided supporting documentation for how you're managing it?

Work history

- Have you provided a current Curriculum Vitae which has been signed by you as being true and correct (if applicable)?
- Have you provided statement/s of service confirming employment history (if applicable)?
- Have you requested Certificates of Good Standing/Registration Status from the relevant authorities where you have been registered as a health practitioner (if applicable)?